RE: Barriers and Policy Recommendations for individuals with intellectual disabilities

The National Down Syndrome Congress (NDSC) is a national organization representing about 350,000 people with Down syndrome and their families. The NDSC has affiliate organizations in virtually every state.

The NDSC enthusiastically supports the Obama-Biden Disability Plan and look forward to assisting in the implementation of the plan. We are also offering information about the barriers and policy goals of our organization. Our contact information is:
